Message from Yazda's President

The year 2016 witnessed our community challenged by a number of external factors, including crises in Sinjar and the perpetual occupation of Yazidi homeland by ISIS. Amidst these challenges, Yazda members are increasingly partnering to achieve greater impact and effectiveness, and advocating for our community's ideals with one common voice.

Yazda has continued to serve as a platform for common action, strengthening its role as one of the leading NGOs working to alleviate suffering and increase human dignity for the Yazidi community as one of the world's most poor and vulnerable populations.

In 2016 our organization implemented multiple projects inside and outside of the refugee and IDP camps in the region, such as psychotherapy, health and medical projects, children's program, education and cultural preservation programs, case management for victimized women and female children, and many other temporary projects that were planned and implemented by Yazda staff and volunteers in order to help improve the quality of life of people in most need.

It is only in the intertwining narratives of our staff, the strategic development of our organization, and the changed lives of our beneficiaries that the real picture becomes evident. Yazda has been serving the community with all of its energy, going towards the right approach which is widely accepted and we hope to reach the light at the end of the tunnel.

We are fortunate to have thousands of wonderful supporters, contributors, donors and partners who have been helping us to achieve our mission since the beginning of this genocide. We are also fortunate to have such a dedicated professional team, as Silvia Zunino the country director in Iraq, and Murad Ismael as Yazda Senior Executive Director, and the other Yazda directors, members, volunteers and educators who are working in USA, Canada, Australia, Iraq, Germany, Ireland, Scotland, Greece, France and who are willing to travel to remote corners of the world to share the message of Yazidi and improve the quality of life for those in need.

Yazda Mission & Vision

Yazidi mission is to support victims of genocide and enslavement in various means to ensure their safety and wellbeing in the areas of humanitarian, community, and advocacy.

While Yazda was founded to target supporting the Yazidi community, its overall mission is to support communities facing persecution.

Our humanitarian mission consists of; trauma counseling, case management, health care, aid distribution, livelihood and emergency support.

Yazda's advocacy targets raising awareness, human rights, minorities rights, recognition of genocide and other atrocities, enabling survivors to speak up, documentation of crimes, and legal accountability.

Our community mission includes informal educational, skills building through training, small businesses, integration of persecuted individuals in new environments, community development and cultural preservation.

Yazda is dedicated to Yazidi and other communities under persecution because of their identity or belief. We believe that no one should be persecuted for who they are, neither anyone should be treated differently for being different.

This includes ancient communities, like Yazidi, Christians, and other minorities of Middle east.

Middle east is the home of a mosaic of beliefs. But persecution have created great issues. For Yazidis, today we asks question of existence. Our vision, is that much work need to be on many fronts so that these communities can exist.

We belief the world must know what happens, this is why we give victims like Nadia Murad a voice. We belief that perpetrators of Genocide and mass enslavement should be brought to justice. This is why we work with world experts like Amal Clooney and Luis Moreno Ocampo.

2. Women's Center

In August 2014, the Islamic State abducted thousands of Yazidi women and girls, who were subjected to rape, violence, forced conversions to Islam, and married to ISIS militants. These atrocious acts were part of an attempt of the Islamic State to eliminate Yazidi identity. More than 3000 women have now been released or escaped while others remain in the hands of ISIS.

These survivors of captivity and enslavement require a significant amount of psychological and humanitarian support and care. In early 2015, Yazda established a Women's Centre and run a case management program to assist survivors, Bataqa Program or administrative support for survivors.

Yazda Women's Centre

The Women's Center runs weekly support groups, baking classes, handicraft classes, gives one-on-one psychological support, and provides material aid. A case manager is assigned to each woman, who tracks her individual progress and monitors her needs as she recovers from her ordeal.

To date, Yazda has assisted over 1500 survivors of enslavement and captivity. Yazda also maintains one of the largest databases of women held by ISIS/ISIL.

Through this database, women are tracked and offered services, which are provided both by Yazda and government authorities.

Yazda and ICRC provide financial support to 500 women survivors of ISIS enslavement

* Video Link: Yazda supporting women survivors <https://youtu.be/1UO04y9Ac3I>

This case management platform achieves five key objectives for Yazda:

A. Provides urgent humanitarian aid to victims upon rescue, including but not limited to food, clothing, and medical needs.

B. Improves rescue services by compiling data on key locations, victim demographics, and networks of victim enslavement in Iraq in efforts to more effectively assist the Iraqi government. Through this platform Yazda has been able to compile information gathered during interviews, including the key demographics of victims (age, nationality, fluency in English, etc.) and identify gaps in service needs based on data. Furthermore, Yazda also strives to collect data on the locations where victims were held. Through this information, Yazda hopes to better understand the physical and emotional needs of each victim it serves, as well as target locations and provide coordinated and detailed intel to the Iraqi government to increase rescue efforts.

Distribution of aid on newly rescued/freed survivors by Yazda's team

C. Identifies areas for improvement regarding Yazda's rehabilitative program that will lead to making data driven decisions. Itemizing services is more manageable on this platform, i.e. the number of services which provide psychological support in a given period of time. This information will drive critical decisions at Yazda, which will improve the quality of treatment over the entire duration of the program.

D. Builds capacity and infrastructure within the organization by streamlining the process to report required data/outcomes to third party funders, and allows for data utility in order to demonstrate the efficacy of Yazda's programming, in turn increasing our funding sources. That is to say, through managing data electronically, Yazda is able to quickly calculate key statistics that are required by third party funders, such as the number of meals served to victims, the number of victims in the base camps, and the number of referrals for support services. This allows us to assess and report the efficacy of the programming to additional funders to expand and build capacity/infrastructure. For example, Yazda utilizes this comprehensive database to work with the Iraqi government to issue monthly stipends for survivors. Approximately 700 applications have been submitted, 250 of which were authorized and the remainder of which are in progress. Yazda has also leveraged this database in working with the Red Cross to provide one-time financial support of 300,000 Iraqi Dinars per survivors to 500 survivors. Yazda is now in the process with Iraqi government to provide one-time financial support of one million Iraqi Dinars per survivor for 1300 survivors.

E. Enhances coordinated care for victims post rescue by creating a readily accessible database system that integrates all personal client data, including intake information, case notes, location, legal documents, medical records, appointments, and incident reports. By creating a readily accessible database system that integrates all of the survivors' personal data, this platform enables survivors to receive specialized care. For instance, how one victim handles emotional counseling will differ from another victim. Similarly, although a victim is able to successfully integrate in one aspect, she may still struggle in another area. Since each victim copes with trauma differently, so their rehabilitation program is equally tailored to their needs. Integrating the intake information, case notes, medical records, appointments, and incident reports of survivors on to a single database is crucial to understanding this dynamic. As such, with the case management platform, Yazda is able to tailor its services to the unique needs and circumstances of survivors because all information is centralized and accessible.

3. WOMEN'S PSYCHOSOCIAL SUPPORT

Yazda supports a vast number of women who suffered imprisonment, abuse, physical and psychological trauma at the hands of ISIS and who now find themselves unable to cope, isolated, and without means for a dignified life. Following the 2014 assault on Yazidi villages in Sinjar, many found shelter in refugee/IDP camps around Dohuk while many others, after falling captive, have gradually escaped and reached Dohuk in desperate conditions.

The opening of the Women’s Centre in June 2015 attracted vast numbers of women from the IDP camps. As survivors found freedom and reached Dohuk, they came to know about Yazda’s activities and began to join.

Yazidi survivors and Yazda Team meeting the Yazidi Pope, Baba Shikh Kherto in Lalish Temple, Shekhan District.

Yazda, through its Women’s Centre, offers a range of activities aimed at the psychological support of victims and vulnerable women and their children, as well as activities to recreate community bonds and promote support groups.

Pilgrimages to the sacred site of Lalish are included as a journey of reintegration in the community. Here Yazidi religious and spiritual leaders, offering their welcome to the victims, assist with the process of healing, particularly feelings of guilt and shame. Material aid is also provided through the distribution of blankets, clothes, food, and livelihood (goats, chickens, sewing machines..) to survivors that reach Yazda.

Yazda staff engaged in this project include 1 project manager, 4 case managers, and drivers with minivans and cars.

THE ACTIVITIES IN 2016 REACHED A TOTAL OF 1500 WOMEN:

- A. COUNSELLING and one-to-one psychological support is offered to approximately 20 women/month over several sessions according to need. Referral to specialized services when necessary
- B. SUPPORT GROUPS to address psychologically challenging issues: groups of 35 women meet in cycles of 8 weekly sessions.
- C. HANDICRAFTS as a therapeutic and social space, and baking classes as part of the socialising and empowering process. Groups of 35 women meet in cycles of 8 weekly sessions for these activities. Children are welcome at Yazda’s Children Program.

- E. SELF RELIANCE PROGRAM: Distribution of livelihood items to 16 families with average size of 12 people each.

4. Bataqa Program or Administrative Support for Survivors

Yazda works with the Iraqi government to provide ongoing financial support to the survivors. Yazda worked with the Baghdad's Directorate of Women's Protection (part of the Ministry of Social Affairs) to create a "bataqa" card (similar to a government issued card that provides regular income to IDPs and refugees). This card is specifically for female survivors of IS enslavement and will provide a small monthly stipend to each woman for the rest of her life. Yazda uses our database to complete applications and provide them to the government; after they are processed, the cards are issued to the women at the Yazda office. So far, hundreds of Bataqa cards have been given to the survivors, and this project is ongoing.

In addition, Yazda identifies survivors trapped in Kurdistan Region/Northern Iraq or in refugee camps in neighbouring countries, and has carried out pre-screening to assist the resettlement process for countries like Canada and Australia that offer asylum.

5. Health and Medical Services

A. PRIMARY HEALTH CENTRE (PHC):

This project was in partnership with Norwegian Church Aid, Kurdistan Region's Health Directorate of Dohuk, German Action Medeor, and other international and local partners, Yazda provided free medical services to a community of 15,000 Essyan IDP Camp, Dohuk Province for 2 years. This project was Completed in December 2016 and another organization replaced Yazda.

Services offered to the community increased in 2016, when the team of medical staff expanded to include a gynecologist, and a dentist, bringing the total staff to 24 people. In 2016 Yazda bought an ultrasound scan to add to its diverse equipment. Medicines were supplied regularly by the local government with whom e enjoyed a collaborative relation. Every month the PCH saw close to 6,000 patients, whose details were managed through a professional database.

B. MOBILE MEDICAL CLINICS(UNITS):

From our Sinuni office, a Mobile Medical Unit was deployed to provide basic health to 35 villages. Staffed by a medic and a nurse/ pharmacist, it assisted close to 2,000 patients per month, in areas where no other medical service is available. Equipped with a IT database, it keeps track of each patient through the multiple visits. It can count on medicines provided in part by the government and in part by private donors. The service also offers emergency transport to larger local hospitals when needed.

Our current mobile medical clinics provide free health care to remote areas in Sinjar Mountain. The local people in these areas are either displaced, or returnees trying to rebuild their homes and lives, and do not have access to medical care.

The mission of the Yazda mobile clinic is to address the need for accessible, cost-effective primary health care by bringing the doctor to the people. Our ability to deliver services directly into mountain villages difficult to access helps us respond to the needs of people who may otherwise have been left undiagnosed and untreated.

Yazda mobile clinic on the Sinjar Mountain

The mobile clinic provides full-time, 5 days a week, medical coverage. Since our inception, we have been serving more than 2,100 patients per month in about 35 locations on the north side of Sinjar Mountain. Yazda is grateful for the powerful collaboration of like-minded individuals who have aligned with us to ensure that health care for the people of Mount Sinjar is available. We are especially appreciative to the Central Council

B. THE TIREJA ROJE PROGRAM:

run since 2015 and through 2016 providing a learning place for adults and children in IDP camps. Main focus was the cultural and religious identity of the Yazidi community. The importance of this project is that Yazidi tradition is oral, and traditions are easily forgotten or lost when communities suffer displacement and genocide. 4 religious leaders, gave twice weekly sessions to approximately 100 adults per month. Children participated in groups of 20 to 30 each session.

G. EDUCATION AND SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN(ESASFC)

Often forgotten about during periods of crisis, children are greatly affected by conflict and displacement. They endure the hardship of fleeing from their homes, living in camps or deteriorating urban settings, and often bear witness to gross violence or the death of family members. These children have a right to safe spaces and healing care, but resources can be limited.

In Iraq, thousands of Yazidi children have been orphaned since the ISIS attacks of 2014, while others have been held in captivity and forced to participate in violent acts. Many of the children who avoided capture by ISIS still live in camps without access to education and proper care. Their childhoods are being stolen from them.

One of Yazda's primary goals is to provide direct humanitarian and education support for Yazidi youth. Currently, Yazda is only able to assist children who visit our Women's Center located in Duhok. This limits the number we are able to reach, therefore we are hopeful to acquire funding to expand these services to also help children living in IDP camps and the Sinjar region.

Our present education goals include

- Documentation and identification of those children who need sponsorship or adoption.
- Mobilization of resources to provide direct humanitarian aid
- Establishing educational programming to ensure that children continue to receive the education they deserve, as well providing trauma and medical support

The educational side of this program has not been initiated because of lack of funds.

7. Global Advocacy Campaign

A. RAISE AWARENESS & RECOGNITION OF GENOCIDE:

Yazda believes that in order to prevent future atrocities against a community there must be a wide acknowledgment and recognition.

Yazda team worked jointly with survivors and out international partners to raise awareness and bring international attention to the Genocide.

Yazda is sponsoring and supporting the work of the Genocide survivor and UNODC Goodwill Ambassador, Nadia Murad. For more information about Nadia's work please visit: www.nadiamurad.org.

In addition, Yazda is supporting Farida Abbas, Samia Suleman, Shireen Jirido and other Genocide survivors to uncover ISIS crimes and allow their voices to be heard the world over. Yazda have advocated in more than 20 countries so far

8. Aid Work

A. SINJAR OUTREACH PROJECT:

In partnership with United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), Yazda provided livelihood support to hundreds of families in Sinjar in 2016-2017. The spent amount budget was 256.454.27USD and the program was closed in March 2017. For more information click here <https://www.yazda.org/the-expansion-of-shingal-outreach-project/>

B. DIRECT AID ASSISTANCE

In partnership with several Yazidi groups in Germany, Yazda provided several trucks of cloths, food, education supplies and other emergency items since 2014

C. LIVE CHICKENS

One form of support that serves the needs of all who live in Sinjar is live chickens. To date, Yazda has distributed 2,500 chickens to over 500 families. Through egg production, chickens provide an ongoing sustainable food source. Yazda is presently expanding activities in this area to serve a greater amount of families.

D. WATER FILTERS

In 2016, Yazda distributed water filters to 1,000 families in Sinjar to provide access to safe and clean drinking water. The filters were generously donated by one of Yazda's many partners. Presently, an additional 1,800 filters are scheduled to be delivered.

E. SANITATION

As families have returned to Sinjar, many have moved into tent communities or areas still rebuilding from ISIS attacks. Some of these places lack proper sanitation facilities. To assist, Yazda has constructed outhouses in IDP areas lacking access to toilets.

Both Returnee and IDPs Needs:

On August 3rd, tens of thousands of Yazidis fled to the top of Sinjar Mountain to escape the atrocities of the so called Islamic State. Many remained on the mountain until a corridor could be opened to the safety of Kurdistan. Although the corridor allowed people to flee, some chose to stay behind and protect their ancestral homeland.

Distribution of Food by Yazda outrage team on Yazidis on Sinjar Mountain

Today, thousands of Yazidis still reside on top of the mountain, unable to return to their villages that have been taken by ISIS. These internally displaced persons (IDPs) require humanitarian aid and assistance to meet their basic human needs. Yazda is working to provide care and relief to this community as well as the thousands of Yazidi returnees who have come back to Sinjar after escaping to Kurdistan.

Restoring the Yazidi community and rebuilding the homeland is paramount to the mission of Yazda. Presently, we are focusing efforts in the foothills of the mountain to serve the vast amount of Yazidis who now reside there.

IDPs Specific Needs: winterization is necessary to help vulnerable IDPs cope with the harshness of Sinjar's cold seasonal climate. Therefore, Yazda is now working to establish a robust winterization intervention. In Yazda's needs assessment, it was found that families often experience direct exposure to weather conditions due to poor insulation in their shelters. Now nearly three years into the crisis, these shelters and tents have become worn and insufficient for families to survive winter weather. Yazda has been able to provide some with tarp and rope, but additional supplies are needed.

Destruction of houses by ISIS in Sinjar city

Returnees: Those who have opted, despite the continued lack of security and services in Sinjar, to leave the camps in Kurdistan and return to their homeland.

Internally Displaced Persons (IDPs): Those displaced from many areas still under ISIS/ISIL control, who have opted to take up residence on the mountain rather than the Dohuk Governorate IDPs camps.

9. The Voice of Yazidi Women:

Yazda have started a program to help Yazidi women to raise their voices, this program has a local and an international component.

Activities include:

1. The production of a documentary on Yazidi women
2. Screening the documentary

The women interviewed endured tremendous suffering yet gave remarkable examples of inner strength and resilience. A documentary looking at the past, with the aim of building a better future for the Yazidi community.

The screening of the documentary will take place in multiple places in Iraq, as well as abroad, and will be included in the events to mark the 3rd anniversary of the Yazidi genocide.

10. Small Businesses

The genocide conducted by the Islamic State in 2014 has devastated the region of Shingal, the Yazidi homeland. Since that time, many areas have become liberated and people have begun to return. However, redevelopment is a slow process requiring significant assistance and attention to potential inhibitors of progress. Specifically, one gap in the redevelopment of Shingal is the need for small businesses in urban centers.

SMALL BUSINESS SUPPORT

SECTOR	Economical development
DONOR	Private donor
DURATION	JUN 2017 - DEC 2017
BUDGET	$ 90,000
LOACTION	Villages in the Sinani area

DESCRIPTION

Activities include:

1. Selection of 16 beneficiaries with experience in shop keeping
2. Support to start-up, including shop arrangement, rent, and first stock
3. Follow up and ongoing support

The project aims at supporting the small scale economy that can provide basic goods to the returning population in the Sinani area. After conducting a precise assessment on the number and type of shop before the attacks, the current situation and the forecast number of returnees, key areas of intervention were identified. These include groceries, barbers, mobile shops, electricians bakeries and clothes shops. Yazda will support the process with staff experienced in shop keeping and will provide financial backup and advise, as well as mentoring and monitoring for 6 months.

11. Building and Infrastructure

Most NGOs have focused development efforts on the agricultural sector, ignoring economic needs of the collectives. Consequently, the business sector has barely begun to recover from the crisis and external support would be welcome. The presence of more businesses in Shingal may also serve to buttress returnee numbers that have previously remained low due to lack of services and supplies in the region. Therefore, Yazda has designed an intervention to support small business development to meet the needs of the community
